

WHAT TRUE MERIT WILL DO.—The unprecedented sale of Beecher's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is, without doubt, the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the disease makes their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price 75 cts. per bottle.

On Meadow Valley street a motherly old hen was busy clucking around her brood of chickens when a big dog came along and commenced to take liberties with the infant roosters. This was more than hen nature could stand, and she, bristling feathers and distended wings, flew at his dogship, got a post of vantage on his back, and by vigorous application of beak and wings so annoyed the intruder, that big as he was, he fairly turned pale and sought less belligerent scenes, while Mrs. Hen collected her scattered brood and conveyed them to a place of safety in fine style. Moral—If you are big do not take liberties with those who are smaller or weaker than yourself, for you may get the worst of it.

The cause of the fire last Saturday was from throwing ashes, with live coals in them, in the bark of a wood pile. It is not the first time that this has occurred in this same place. People who are so careless could not expect any sympathy from the community should their house burn down and leave them with nothing but the canopy of heaven as a roof. Let your ashes stand over night and then there will be no danger.

The ethics of the frequenters of the lodging-houses seem peculiar, every lodger appears bound to make as much noise as possible when he enters, and if he can by loud talk and banging doors wake all the rest, then he retreats peacefully to his couch, and believes he has fulfilled his mission. Some folks have a curious notion of what is pleasant for their neighbors.

Sunday with the citizens of Pioche and its vicinity is not quite so restful a day as it might and ought to be, but still its hebdomadal recurrence exercises a salutary influence upon all. The church accommodation of Pioche is very limited. We have but two churches—the Catholic and the Episcopal—and services are held but once a year.

Those who missed the opportunity of having their photo taken by the artist who was here recently, will have another chance. Mr. Bruner, the enterprising photographer, is fitting up a gallery and will be ready for business next week. Mr. Bruner is a first-class artist and guarantees good or no pay.

Another new arrival in town. Mrs. Fred. Gothe presented her lord with a bouncing boy last Wednesday morning. Here's to the new comer.

Later—The child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Gothe died Thursday morning and was buried in the afternoon.

We learn that in the last few days a large body of rich ore has been struck in Henry Welland's mine at Highland. This is cheering news, and is an additional assurance that the day of Pioche's revived prosperity is not far off.

The weather has been very changeable during the week. We have had the four seasons in three days. The rain of Wednesday was refreshing and laid the dust.

James Ryan, father to Patrick and James Ryan, of Meadow Valley Wash, died in Salt Lake City last week from a cancer on the under part of his foot.

Any information as to the whereabouts of I. Jennings, former mail contractor in this section, will be thankfully received by Postmaster Shier.

Same rumor has another wedding on the tapis. Go it while you are young, boys the town is full of girls and plenty more coming from Utah.

John Webber, of Taylor, was in town the first of the week.

The District Court will be in session Monday, the 17th.

WHERE DID IT COME FROM.

We are going to relate a chicken story, and it—the story not the chicken—has a conundrum attached to it that might possibly be interesting. The other day one of our citizens saw a fine chicken in a Mormon wagon and visions of pot-pie, soup, etc., began to fill his mind. So he effected a bargain with the disciple of Joe Smith, and purchased the said fowl for the sum of six bits, cash in hand, the receipt whereof ought to be acknowledged and carried off his feather biped. After the latter had paid the debt of nature, an inspection of his inward was made preparatory to submitting the body to the resources of culinary science. While the operation of cleaning was being performed, an examination of the gizzard was made and a small hard substance found, that had certainly no legitimate authority to be secreted in the chicken's gizzard. On a close inspection and testing by experts, the said intruding substance was found to be a small nugget of gold, worth 75 cents. This was a good bargain to our friend, having the nugget and the fowl thrown in. Not now comes the conundrum. Does Mr. Chicken come of the same style of institution as the goose that laid the golden eggs, and was it in the habit of having golden secretions in its gizzard, or was it fatted on gold, or did it pick it up under the belief that the auriferous was good fowl-liver food? If the latter, it might not be amiss to know where said fowl was like fancy bred. The best of it is the purchaser has no idea where Mr. Mormon lurketh, or where he got Mr. Chicken. In fact he knows nothing about it, and will probably have to content himself with the shallow plucker he found in the chicken's gizzard, which, as placers frequently do, soon run out. What a pity it is that that chicken was not allowed to live and propagate the species, if it were in the habit of having its gizzard lined with gold. We shouldn't mind having a whole generation of such fellows.

The land department at Washington has given notice that millions of acres of railroad indemnity lands will be open to settlement by homesteaders and pre-emptors within a few months. These lands are among the best lands ever offered west of the Mississippi river and in the Gulf States. Such an opportunity for the young people of this nation to acquire real estate for the mere taking will never occur again, as the public lands will by another year be practically exhausted. Thereafter the struggle for homes and land will resemble Europe. All who are about to start west or locate on Southern railroad lands will find Cope's Settler's Guide of special service—published by Henry N. Cope, Washington, D. C. price 25 cents. It tells all about the homestead, pre-emption, timber culture and other land laws; how to decipher surveyed township, section and quarter-section corners; how long residence must be continued; what settlement and improvements must be shown; how and on what grounds contest against abandoned and illegal entries can be commenced; location of government land offices and names of land officers, and it will doubtless save many settlers from the loss of their land and improvements, as designing people often mislead uninformed settlers as to the requirements of the settlement laws.

A. Adelman, the ever popular proprietor of the People's Meat Association Market, has removed from his old stand and is now located in J. O. Galsberg's old shop. Gas is now prepared to serve to all the flocks, fattest and juiciest meats the town has ever seen. He defies his competitor to furnish as good meat as he does and at the same price.

On Wednesday night the "Red Eagle" made his appearance on our streets once more, flapped his wings and belched forth a lot of nonsensical nonsense to our citizens. He is, undoubtedly, aspiring for another office, and will get it as he has heretofore—in the neck.

The Harb's Sentinel, as a weekly, comes to us enlarged. It is the best weekly newspaper published in the State and is deserving of future patronage. Good luck.

PANACA CORRESPONDENT.

Ed. Record:
Lately quite a number of saints from Utah have passed through Panaca, emigrating to other parts. What has got the matter with Utah? Has the child got the summer complaint? Children do sometimes. If so, give the little one plenty of wild rose leaf tea. It is good for truant sick children. Or give them a dose of hickory oil, well laid on, and thoroughly rubbed in. It is often good for wicked, sick and rebellious children. Try it, Uncle Sam, on truant, sick Utah.

There were some female Mormon missionaries here recently, whooping up the saints of Panaca and taking in their (the saints) loose change. Times are very close and it forces polygamists out on begging missions.

The young goats of Panaca have a new fangled way of swinging the young ladies. They hobble them, put them in the swing and set them flying. Fanny, don't you think so.

On the 10th Mr. Latimer and his mother returned to Pioche, accompanied by Mr. N. H. Carlow and Miss Ella Sparks, the latter going on a visit for a few days.

Old Jack Frost has not killed everything in Panaca yet. At any rate, I see some beautiful bushes with full blown blossoms on the top branches.

On the 7th old Boreas labored very hard; he must have put some of his giants at the bellows by the amount of wind he raised.

The 9th inst. Mr. Geo. Latimer and his mother paid as a visit. In the evening a few of the elite youth had quite a jolly time.

The Panaca school opened on the 10th inst. Mr. Whitney having the honor of being pedagogue.

Mr. Charles Bonow is still on the sick list.

WHAT THE TROUBLE IS.

The trouble with a great many readers is that they don't understand how much easier it is to point out a tree in a magnificent landscape, than it is to paint the magnificent landscape itself.

The trouble with the young woman in love is that she doesn't know whether she really loves the young man for himself alone or for the caramels he brings and the prospect of a solitary diamond to dazzle the other girls.

The trouble with the average wife is that the husband is much more prodigal with his protestations of affection than he is with his money, and that he doesn't waste much of either unless he wants a button sewed on.

The trouble with the young man in love is that he is insane enough to think that all the other young men are making just as big fools of themselves about his best girl as he is.

The trouble with almost all the ministers is that they don't hear the other ministers preach often enough to know what a really bang up sermon is.

The trouble with the average husband is that he knows his wife knows he isn't so big a man as he wants the world to think he is.

The trouble with the small boy is that his big sister never was a small boy herself and so she doesn't know how a small boy feels.

The trouble with a great many editors is that they don't think half as much as they write.

The trouble with the large girl is that every pair of scales she steps on give her a weigh.

The trouble with the small girl is that she isn't bigger.

OUR MINE.

YUBA.

This mine is gradually working its way into public favor. Its position right on the brow and terminus of the ridge shows that if anything is to be found thereabouts, that is permanent and valuable, this is the one of the most likely to succeed in that desideratum. The main incline is down 1200 feet. At the bottom of the mine, on the 9th level, shows a ledge of black sulphur which is fully three feet in width. Considerable ore is being taken out from the 9th and 10th levels and also from the mine on the 9th. The mine will prove itself a bonanza ere long.

ONORADA.

This mine still improves as depth is attained. Through the perseverance, energy and indefatigable work of the owners this mine has proved a bonanza, and paid its way from the grass roots. The main mine has attained a depth of 150 feet. One assay from the ore in the bottom assayed 564 ounces silver and 60 per cent lead. The ore has a reddish cast and differs from any previously encountered, being oxide of iron and lead, intermixed with bismuth of silver. Not many days will pass ere the owners can consider themselves millionaires, of which they are richly deserving.

BONNE.

The shaft is being lowered as rapidly as the nature of the ground will permit. Mr. L. D. Davis, the able and popular superintendent of the company, is doing all that lies within him to get the company's property in good shape and if he fails no one else need try.

RAYMOND AND RAY.

There has been no change since our last report. Work is going on as usual, without any remarkable development to notice.
